Policy Overview
Frequent claim-billing errors are made when assigning the number of units to a procedure code. For example, the units for a drug may be mistakenly billed as the number of milligrams, e.g., 50, where the actual unit of service may be 1 (1 unit=50mg), or the descriptor for a CPT code may specify “bilateral” meaning the code includes both sides of the body, and the maximum units that may be billed is 1, not 2. The maximum-units edits are unit-of-service claim edits applied to medical claims against a procedure code for medical services rendered by 1 provider/supplier to 1 patient for a period of time, usually 1 day. Such claim edits compare different values on medical claims to a set of defined criteria to check for irregularities. Maximum-units edits are designed to limit fraud or coding errors. They represent an upper limit that unquestionably requires further documentation to support. The Maximum Units of Service policy is derived from several sources: CMS, AMA CPT (American Medical Association Current Procedural Terminology), knowledge of anatomy, the standards of medical practice, FDA (U.S. Food and Drug Administration) and other nationally recognized drug references, and outlier claims data from provider billing patterns.

The purpose of this policy is to define payment criteria for the maximum units of service billed on a claim to be used by the Health Plan in making payment decisions and administering benefits.

Application
This policy applies to any provider submitting claims for procedure codes for which maximum–units limits have been exceeded. The ideal maximum unit value for a HCPCS/CPT code that allows the vast majority of appropriately coded claims to bypass editing.

Policy Description
Reimbursement
Claim lines exceeding the maximum-allowable units will be denied.

Utilization
This policy includes but is not limited to CMS’s “Medically Unlikely Edits (MUEs)”. For most CPT/HCPCS codes, these edits dictate the maximum number of units of service (UOS), under most circumstances, allowable for the same provider for the same beneficiary on the same calendar date of service, over a specified period of time or over a beneficiary’s lifetime. This policy applies to all professional and outpatient facility claims coded with a CPT or HCPCS code. The maximum units’ value applies regardless of whether or not the code is reported on one line, multiple lines or multiple claims.
The use of CPT/HCPCS modifiers (e.g. 76, 77, 91, anatomic) may or may not impact the number of units allowed. State Medicaid agencies or fiscal agents may have rules limiting use of these modifiers with some HCPCS/CPT codes.

The maximum units’ value for each HCPCS/CPT code is based on one or more of the following criteria:

1. Anatomic considerations may limit units of service based on anatomic structures. For example, the MUE value for an appendectomy is one since there is only one appendix.
2. The CPT code descriptors/CPT coding instructions in the CPT Manual may limit units of service.
3. Nationally recognized sources such CMS, NCCI, or specialty society guidelines.
4. Guidelines defined in the applicable state Medicaid provider manuals, fee schedules, etc.
5. The nature of a procedure/service may limit units of service and is in general determined by the amount of time required to perform a procedure/service (e.g., overnight sleep studies) or clinical application of a procedure/service (e.g., motion analysis tests).
6. The nature of equipment may limit units of service and is in general determined by the number of items of equipment that would be utilized (e.g., cochlear implant or wheelchair).
7. Clinical judgment considerations and determinations are based on input from physicians and certified coders.
8. This policy and analysis of claims data.
9. Fee schedules, provider manuals, bulletins or contracts.
11. If the prescribing information defined a maximum daily dose, this value was used to determine the maximum units’ value. For some drugs there is an absolute maximum daily dose. For others there is a maximum "recommended" or "usual" dose. In the latter two cases, the daily dose calculation was evaluated against claims data.
12. If the maximum daily dose calculation is based on actual body weight, a dose based on a weight range of 110-150 kg was evaluated against the claims data. If the maximum daily dose calculation is based on ideal body weight, a dose based on a weight range of 90-110 kg was evaluated against claims data. If the maximum daily dose calculation is based on body surface area (BSA), a dose based on a BSA range of 2.4-3.0 square meters was evaluated against claims data.
13. Published off label usage of a drug was considered for the maximum daily dose calculation.
14. The maximum unit values for some drug codes are set to 0. The rationale for such value includes but is not limited to: discontinued manufacture of drug and non-FDA approved compounded drug.
Non-drug related HCPCS/CPT codes may be assigned an MUE of 0 for a variety of reasons including, but not limited to: outpatient hospital MUE value for surgical procedure only performed as an inpatient procedure.

Many surgical procedures may be performed bilaterally. The NCCI program requires that bilateral surgical procedures be reported using modifier 50 with one unit of service. If a bilateral surgical procedure is performed at different sites bilaterally (e.g., transforaminal epidural injections (CPT codes 64480, 64489)), one unit of service may be reported for each site. That is, the HCPCS/CPT code may be reported with modifier 50 and one unit of service for each site at which it was performed bilaterally.

Some state Medicaid agencies or fiscal agents allow providers to report repetitive services performed over a range of dates on a single line of a claim with multiple units of service. If a provider reports services in this fashion, the provider should report the “from date” and “to date” on the claim line. Contractors are instructed to divide the units of service reported on the claim line by the number of days in the date span and round to the nearest whole number. This number is compared to the maximum unit value for the code on the claim line.

A denial of services due to a maximum unit is a coding denial, not a medical necessity denial. HCPCS/CPT codes that are denied based on maximum units may not be billed to Medicaid beneficiaries.

Most maximum unit values are set so that a provider would only very occasionally have a claim line denied. If a provider encounters a code with frequent denials due to the maximum units the provider should consider the following: (1) Is the HCPCS/CPT code being used correctly? (2) Is there a HCPCS/CPT code that more correctly reflects the services rendered? (3) Is the unit of service being counted and reported correctly? and (3) Why does the provider’s practice differ from national patterns?

Since maximum units are coding edits rather than medical necessity edits, state Medicaid agencies or fiscal agents may have units of service edits that are more restrictive than maximum units. In such cases, these more restrictive edits would be applied to the claim.”

Additional Maximum Units Edits

Anatomical modifiers E1-E4 (Eyes), FA-F9 (Fingers), and TA-T9 (Toes) have a maximum allowable of 1 unit per anatomical site for a given date of service. Any service billed with an anatomical modifier for more than 1 unit of service will be adjusted accordingly.

Certain obstetrical diagnostic services may have assigned maximum-units-per-day limits based upon presence or absence of diagnosis codes indicative of multiple gestation. Units billed in excess of the maximum-per-day limits will be denied.
PAYMENT POLICY
MAXIMUM UNITS OF SERVICE

Maximum units of service are applied to all claims for the same patient, same provider, on the same date of service. All units billed will be counted regardless of whether they are on the same or different lines and the same of different claims. Any units above the allowed amount will be denied.

Documentation Requirements
In the unusual clinical circumstance when the number of units billed on the claim legitimately exceeds the assigned maximum number for that procedure, clinical documentation of the number of units actually performed should be submitted for reconsideration of the denial.
